Listen In On "A Conversation With Henry Winkler"
Benefitting the Mental Health Association
April 4 th at 1:00 p.m. at the Emerson Center

VERO BEACH, FL, MARCH 3, 2009 -- Henry Winkler, legendary actor, director and producer will take center stage at the Emerson Center when the Mental Health Association (MHA) brings: "A Conversation With Henry Winkler" to Vero Beach. This event is open to the public and will take place Saturday, April 4 th at 1:00 p.m. Henry will be joined in an intimate, living-room style dialogue with well-known author and artist, Leslie McGuirk. Henry and Leslie met five years ago through the agent who was representing both of them. They have remained in touch since then. Through Leslie's engaging and relaxed style as an interviewer, Henry will share his thoughts, his creativity and life's lessons.

Henry Winkler starred as the Fonz on the television show "Happy Days" for 10 seasons and is one of the most beloved and recognized actors in the world today. Throughout his life, Henry has struggled with learning challenges and speaks to this as the co-author of a series of fifteen children's books - Hank Zipzer: The World's Most Amazing Under-Achiever. In response to this event he said, "It sounds like so much fun and it's for such a good cause. I'm honored to do this for the MHA."

His on-stage partner for the event, Leslie McGuirk, founded the design studio of McGuirk's Quirks. Leslie has written and illustrated 11 children's picture books which have sold in more than 60 countries. Her next book (written in conjunction with Alex von Bidder, managing partner of the NYC Four Seasons restaurant) is a book of manners gone to the dogs - "Wiggens Learns His Manners at the Four Seasons" --comes out in the summer of 2009.

All proceeds from the program benefit the nonprofit Mental Health Association in
